Poll Questions

Percentages may not add to 100% due to rounding.

First, I just need to confirm in what state you live. (If needed:) People sometimes take their phone number when they move to another state, so we just need to determine what state I'm talking to.

How likely is it you will vote in the November general election for president and other offices—will you definitely vote, probably vote, might or might not vote, probably not vote, or have you already voted?

6	Already voted	Define as likely voter and Continue
94	Definitely vote
-	Probably vote
-	Might or might not vote
-	Probably not vote
-	Refused/not sure

How frequently have you voted in presidential elections in the past 20 years or so—have you voted in every one, voted in most, voted in some, or is this your first time voting for president?

67	Voted in every one
14	Voted in most
9	Voted in some
10	First vote
-	Not sure

(If definitely vote, ask:) If the general election were held today, and the candidates were [Hillary Clinton for the Democrats] and [Donald Trump for the Republicans], for whom would you vote? (Alternate candidate names every other interview.)

(If already voted, ask:) In the election for president, for whom did you vote—[Hillary Clinton for the Democrats/Donald Trump for the Republicans], or for someone else? (Rotate candidate names.)

(If not a likely voter, ask:) If you were to vote in the general election, for whom would you vote—[Hillary Clinton for the Democrats] or [Donald Trump for the Republicans]? (Alternate candidate names every other interview.)

(If definitely vote and not sure or would not vote, ask:) Toward which do you lean?

(If already voted and not sure, ask:) Do you just not want to tell, or do you not remember?

Trump was recorded in 2005 describing in lewd terms trying to seduce a married woman and saying if you're a star, "You can do anything" to women. He has explained this as "locker room talk," apologized, and said voters should move on to more important issues. Women in recent days have also come forward to accuse him of sexual misconduct, which he denied. Has Trump put these matters to rest for you, or will these matters be a concern for you as you vote?

40 Put to rest
56 Will be a concern
4 Not sure

Methodology

Oct. 19 (Bloomberg) -- The Bloomberg Politics Poll, conducted Oct. 14-17 for Bloomberg Politics by Selzer & Co. of Des Moines, IA, is based on interviews with 1,006 U.S. adults ages 18 or older who say they will definitely vote or have already voted in the 2016 general election.

Interviewers with Quantel Research contacted 1,328 U.S. adults with randomly selected landline and cell phone numbers supplied by Survey Sampling International. Responses from the full probability sample were weighted by age, race, and education to reflect the general population based on recent census data. Interviews were administered in English.

Percentages based on the subsample of 1,006 likely voters in the 2016 general election may have a maximum margin of error of plus or minus 3.1 percentage points,. This means that if this survey were repeated using the same questions and the same methodology, 19 times out of 20 times, the findings would not vary from the percentages shown here by more than plus or minus 3.1 percentage points. Results based on smaller samples of respondents—such as by gender or age—have a larger margin of error.
